SPONSORS

“When you want something, all the universe conspires in helping you to achieve it.”

— Paulo Coelho, The Alchemist

We'd like to be a conduit for the universe and help make dreams into the reality that will shape the life of growing youth nationally.

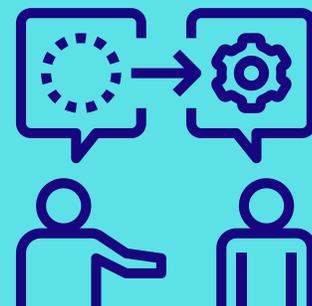

Background

As we continue to pursue financial and job freedom, the youth of Canada, while aspiring to be at the forefront of social innovation, face significant challenges in accessing resources, support, venture literacy and mentorship in achieving their dreams. Amongst these aspiring youth entrepreneurs are visible minorities and young girls who face representation and gender gaps. 55% of female Canadian youth tend to exhibit less confidence about their skills and experiences and higher levels of fear of failure in comparison to their male counterparts, amongst whom only 37% felt the same way. Indigenous youth are also heavily underrepresented in studies relating to social entrepreneurship and innovation. We've seen an upwards increase of 65% of youth who identify as Caucasian/White in the social innovation sphere while there is only 1.8% of representation of youth who identify as First Nations.

Our Solution

The Future Founder's Fellowship (F3) is a fellowship program that trains teenagers in leadership, entrepreneurship and digital skills. It aims to nurture a formidable network of young social innovators collaborating and leveraging technology to address critical challenges affecting their communities.

A success story: KSS Thrift Thursday

Julia Soleski & Priscilia Lao, Team Leaders

Thrifty Thursday is helping to combat the global climate change crisis by running a school-based and an online thrift store where students and community members can shop, swap, or donate used clothing. With the swap shop, they promote a circular economy while increasing the wear time of items that could have ended up in the landfill.

Testimonies

"We were building an online school thrift store with the help of Impact Toolbox through coaching and strategy sessions. It was tremendous help as we were taught step by step in detail with advice and received helpful feedback from an experienced professional. When it comes to entrepreneurship and leadership, I am usually easily intimidated. However, the stories from others' experiences we were told made me realize that it is not as bad as I thought, and I am more capable than I thought."

"If I could have gone back in time and told my nine-year-old self about an online thrift shop that I helped to create, I don't think she would have believed me. I always was ambitious in one way or another, but I felt like I never had the tools to make it a reality. The barrier against my dreams was always the uncertainty and the fact that many people believed that I would amount to nothing. Those people had given up on me before I had even gotten the chance to show my true potential. Impact Toolbox, through this program, presented me with an opportunity I could have never imagined."
